Kai Schultz(3-19-94)

Most people think poems should be sad, should rhyme, or even both. They don't. Some are just straight up feeling whether its sad, angry, happy, or even about love and childish dreams. Poems are the person that writes them so respect the person and the poems you read because they are opening up to you in their words.

A Bleeding Heart

A knife
A knife in the heart it feels

Every word you said,
Deeper it goes

But I can see in your eyes
You know not the pain you inflict

Though you see the tears stain my face

It hurts
It hurts so much

If only I could be emotionless
The pain would be bearable

But alas you touched my heart
Love flowed through

So pain of my heart is blinding

My heart
My heart bleeds from this wound

A wound only you can mend
Only you can make the pain fade

My love for you is strong
Making the pain worse

Can you free me from this curse?

A Child

The darkness surrounds us. We are always in its clutches, though we don't always seem to see it.

Many ask, 'What darkness do you speak of? Everyone is always at love like doves',

But I know that's not true.

Darkness is the very air we breathe or the very poison we call air.

We see it in the sea, even in the green of the grass.

But there is one place we don't see this darkness, and that's in the place of all goodness

IN a child.

Yes, the only place the darkness doesn't touch is in the soul and heart of a small child

Where the darkness wishes to be.

A Childs Love

So cute so loving
You put a smile on our lips.
The way you chase a rolling ball or just snuggled in a blanket on our laps.
So small, so sick,
You became so cold
the way your breathing became shallow and your eyes began to wander.
We snuggled you in a blanket and set you in my lap.
So dark, so gray
You breathed your last breath and your spirit slipped away.
Your eyes no longer wander as your heart stopped its beat.
So lonely, so sad
The day turns bleak all you can hear are small cries and tears hit the ground.
But, the tears soon stop and the sun soon shines.
We look at you and see your peace as we remember the love we gave as well as the way you changed our lives.
Though you are no longer here, you still live in our memories,
You live in our hearts.

A Tragedy

A tragedy

A tragedy that has my heart slowly dying
As my soul stays crying

Slowly it withers away
Like the mist of the early day

I don't know what I am to do
For everyday I die without you

How do I move on
When knowing you are forever gone

Life no longer has meaning
Not with my heart every moment bleeding

Looking outside
Every time I slowly die

I cant handle my sorrow
I don't wanna live this again tomorrow

Why has fate taken you from me Fate could never let us be

Together in love was our reason
But She took it from us this season

All I want is you back lying beside me in bed
Instead she stands beside you as u lay dead

Life no longer has anything for me
Wish this was all a dream

All Yours

They say beauty is in the eye of the beholder but you see the beauty in me that most don't.
You see my intellect, how i think my potential, where my future is headed.
But above all, you see my heart;
The compassion for others and the fire that burns for your love.
You see all my qualities
as well as my blemishes, yet, you still yearn for my heart, my passion.
You still say I'm perfect, that you want me to be yours;
you wish for my love and the tenderness of my kiss.
I give you my passion.
I give you my heart.
I give my all to you.

Beauty With Love

I look in the mirror but all i see are imperfections, not beauty.
So I wear a mask
concealing the real me.
But then you see me and you frown.
'Love, ' you say,
'Why do you hide your beauty with this mask? '
With one swift movement the mask is is in your hand the other stroking my cheek.
'Such beauty should not be hidden, but shown to all to appreciate.
Do not hide and waste such beauty for you are too beautiful to waste.'

Bitter Sweet

I feel so numb around you Did i do something wrong?
You never seem to notice my presence
Though i'm right here, breathing
Even as my heart brakes making it harder
Have i wronged you?
I don't know what i feel
Am i happy, am i sad?
I know not
These feelings are so foreign
How do I respond to you?
You act as if everything is fine but it's not
You left me, leaving me abaandoned
In nothing but misery
Our meeting was to be sweet and happy
But it seemed like i was not even there
You turned what was to be a happy day
Into nothing but a bitter memory.

Brother Gone

I once thought of you as my brother
A person i could depend on Then you left me faster than a bullet
I never said goodbye
I never will
You left me in my tears
Wishing you never came to be my brother
Wishing you never came into my life
I looked to you for everything For advice for someone to talk to And now you are no longer around i feel cast away like i never meant anything
You have replaced me with another
You are no longer my brother

Yet,
I can't erase you
No matter how hard I try
I can't
No matter how much you hurt me.

Chosen

I lay here alone
My thoughts on you
And as I think back
I remember seeing you the first time
And how my heart felt complete
Knowing you would be forever mine
I remember the first kiss
Feeling like I could fly
You changed my life forever
Taking away my wish to die
Rethinking it with a wish to live
To seeing the sun rise and fall
To waking up with your arms around me
To knowing someone so wonderful,
So amazing could ever love a wretch like me
Love a heart so broken Here I am now, writing this Knowing how truly lucky I am
That you chose me.

Dark Company

There is no where to go
I'm lost in this darkness that surrounds me
There is no light
Within my sight.
It has swallowed me whole
Despair grips me
Insanity takes control
They are my only company.
Feeding me lies
Bringing me farther down,
Crushing my very soul.
They follow me,
tricking me
' You're worthless' they say
'You're not wanted' they whisper
They haunt my every step
Never leaving me alone.
So small am I
I can't fight them off.
One tears at my soul
Another bites at my will.
I won't make it out,
I fear this is my end.

Endless Journey

There is a journey we all take,
To find who we are, what we will be and more.
The journey is endless, for it follows life the good times and the bad.
the journey is hard but worth while.
It is filled with sadness and grief,
There is danger at every turn, every street.

Though, it isn't all so dark.
Sun shines even in the darkest hour;
as the birds sing, the flowers open.
The path brings you to people, to friends.
AS it goes on, even to love,
To happy times you spend in the sun with the one that holds your heart.
The journey is endless, but full of hope.
Even when death comes and claims life it's still not the end of the journey,
Only a new beginning.

Find The New Day

I see the way you are everyday,
face long, and drawn though you try to hide it.
I watch you put on that fake smile as you try to fool everyone.
You don't fool me.
Your despair shows through though everyone seems so oblivious.
The darkness is all around you Hiding the light, ready to consume
But the darkness won't fade till you make it.
The sun does shine,
life does go on;
though life feels like it just stopped.
Life is still worth living, there is so much to see!
Take my hand and lets fly throw away the mask,
you have no need of it.
Look out the window breath the new air
It's a new day.

Kai Schultz

Hand In Hand

The grass is ever green, while we walk the path
Just me and you hand in hand
Thought the sun burns us with all it's warmth
It just makes the day more grand
For we are still hand in hand

The waters sparkle as we walk by Leaving our steps in the sand
The birds sing as you kiss me, making me sigh
Sending shivers that can be felt across the land
We are still hand in hand

The years went by, you owned my heart
We sit on the porch watching the sun set
Looking at each other like fine pieces of art
Rocking back and forth hand in hand
Never thinking that we may never have met

The day comes and i got sick
My breathing shallow, my body cold
You come in face sad and lonely
You said your heart to me you sold
I gave my last breath but there we were still Hand in Hand.

Hidden Agony

No one hears my tears
Nor sees the agony on my face
I'm alone in this dark place

The tears fall swiftly
Tho my heart breaks slowly
None see how I've shrunk so lowly

None hear my screams
Nor hear the despair in my call
Slowly still I fall

I wait here in the dark Hoping to see one face
To bring me out of this place

That face will be my knight
My one true love
And my star from above

But I must wait and see
For none have yet to hear my cry
And I fear i may never see that face
Cuz surely i will die

How I Miss You

I can't sleep
My mind is restless
I'm thinking of you
How much I
Miss our talks in the grass by the big oak tree and the way you said my name.
I wish you were here
By my side.
You made me smile
With the little notes
You gave me
I wish I had made
More of the time we had
If only I could go back,
If only just to see
You smile I would.
Here I am
Lying in bed
My mind restless
Thinking on how Things used to be.

I Wish

Sometimes i wish to be around you
As much as i wish to be out in june
Sometimes i even wish to see the morning dew
Perhaps one day i'll see it, one day soon.

I always wish to make or see you smile
Like I always wish to see tomoerow,
Sometimes i wish for more than awhile
So i can remain in my sorrow.

Maybe it's time to stop all the wishing Stop all the useless wishing now, today!
We don't need to be wishing but doing
Maybe i should start by saying:

You no longer need to think of me
Because it's you i'm comin to see.

Invisible Cry

Can you see me,
Am I even here,
Do you hear my call,
I'm crying out
But you look straight through me.

Can you see the cut,
Are you blind to the blood
Do you hear it hit the ground
I'm hurting
But you see right through me.

Can you see me,
Have you felt my tears
Do you hear my heart breaking,
I'm standing here in front of you
But you look right through me

Can you see me,
Am I even here?

Jewels Of The Heart

I hear his voice in my sleep,
As he calls my name
That voice,
So full of love and longing
Making me weak at the knees

I see his face everywhere
Always that beautiful smile
Like a shining diamond in the sun
Making me feel warm and light,
Like nothing can hurt me

Though he is not here,
I feel his touch,
Gentle, welcoming
Like nothing can take us away
We Are Forever
Nothing will stop us

We need no rubies, gems
Our love is all we need
We are our own jewels.

Keys To The Heart

I watch the water
The way it shimmers and sparkles
Reminding me of that summer
The summer you and I were inseperable
You would hold my hand as we walked along the beach
Remember that delightful day
The day you finally said those three words
Three words that changed my life forever
You pulled me too your chest
And looked deep into my eyes
'You are my world' you said
'I love u with all my being Please be mine'
Now I sit here
Listening to your heart on the monitor
You grab my hand and look in my eyes
'I'm not gonna make it' you whisper
I feel the tears fall down my face
'Don't cry, my love' you whisper
'I will always be in your heart'
I lean in and kiss him one last time
'Good' I say
'Because you are the only one who will ever have the keys.'

Life

Life always keeps spinnin even when it should just stand still.

Let there be a time to watch the flowers grow, feel the wind on our faces.

Life always keeps moving even when we slow down;
years are added making us weak and old.

Life is always worth living no matter where you go though the sun may not shine or the clouds are oh so very gray
you can make your day shine like gold.

Kai Schultz

Like The Stars

I walk in the moonlight, watching the stars
They sparkle and shine like your blue eyes.
They shine through the darkest nights keeping my fears at bay.

I lie in my bed, watching the stars they are so dashing and warm like your smile.
Your smile, so beautiful,
Chases away my tears.

I walk on the soft sand of the beach,
Watching the crashing of the waves.
I think of your embrace, so magical, so strong Like our love, magical and strong, like the stars in the magical sky.

Living Pain

My heart has died in my chest
The pain brings me to my knees
My very soul weeps in agony
The world has stopped moving
My life will never be the same

You were once my everything
The very air I breathed
You were my first love
The life that I lived
You were my world

Now you've gone
Love seems pointless
Now I weep
Light is simply darkness
Now life seems worth less.

My Desire

Just because one has not been in love
Does mean it is not understood Or yearned for Stuck in nothing but emotional turmoil.

The thought of having love is more than a desire
Its an obsessive need

The heat of your lovers body all around u
Incasing u in protective warmth

Many want this

I want this, to be safe in ones embrace
I want the feeling of ones soft lips on mine, Hands gently caressing my face

Yet, as much as this is my desire
I would be a fool to have it
For I'm not ready for such love
No matter how much it is desired

One day i will be ready for such love
One day i will be worthy of such protection.

Out Of Existence

My life seems bitter
All my hope is gone
You finally did it
I have been omitted
No longer do I exist

No longer do I hope
Things will never change
You are no longer part of me
I will forget you as if you were nothing
No longer will I cry for you

Never again will we meet
I don't wish to see your face
You have destroyed my memories
Remember me no more
'Cause to me,
You don't exist.

Kai Schultz

Reason

I sit here in the silence
Waiting for a reason to live.
Everything seems so hopeless,
So meaningless.
Then something whispers in my ear,
'If that is so then why were you born? ' It asks.
' All thing happen for a reason.
So go out, find your reason.'

I stand here now smiling at the stars.
Nothing is hopeless nor meaningless.
I have found my reason for living.
Have you?

Remember

I sit in the grass
The sun on my face,
Thinking of your smile Remembering how you would Always be there when I cried Saying it was going to be ok.

I remember how your eyes sparkled
As you looked deep into mine
Your eyes so luminescent,
I could never turn away.

I remember the soft warmth
Of your lips when you kissed me
Making my heart melt.

I remember the day you said
' I love you'
Making my breath stop
Such sacred words, made me sing.

But then, i remember that fateful day
You lying in bed
Your breath slow and shallow
As you say good-bye
With that smile
I remember it so well

I sit in the grass today
By your grave
Thinking of you
And I smile knowing
You are thinking of me too.

Secrets Of The Wind

The wind whispers to me
As it swiftly rushes by
It whispers the secrets
Of life worth living
Outside where sun shines Making living worth while

The wind brings such A feeling of peace
A feeling of clarity
One secret has been told find peace and clarity
The secret of the wind.

Since U Have Arrived

My world has been so bright
Since u have arrived
So full of laughter and light
From u it has derived

Life has been nothing but happiness
Since the first kiss
Never have i felt such wonderfulness
It is something i dont want to miss

The way ur eyes shine
When our lips touch
And the way u hold me
I makes me feel so happy

Since U have arrived
I swear i have just died.

Kai Schultz

The End

The ending is coming,
I can feel it in my very soul.
There will be none left,
We will all die
For all the sins of this world.

Devastation is coming,
I feel it in the air.
It gets thicker, heavy
We won't see tomorrow
There wont be a new day

Death is coming,
I feel him at my door,
Breathing in my life
Only a little longer
And I will be gone

May the world know,
That they knew of the end
They just never knew when
And they still don't
I only knew of my own

Kai Schultz

The Story

The story always changes,
Who was right, who was wrong
I never know the truth,
You never come clean
You say 'Sorry something happened'
But again, the story changes.

I wait, knowing what is to come
But still, I hope
You never show.
I call, you say something happened
Later, something came up
Your story always changes.

When will you stop
Your such a witch
Why do I bother hoping
When I seem to mean nothing to you
What do I have to do to make you love me?
To stop the story from changing.

Kai Schultz

Thinking Of You

I lie in my bed remembering you and the things we would do.
I think of how close we got at the end of our time we had;
Why did have to end?
If only you were here
I know I should let you go,
but I still remember when you said you loved me and it makes my heart beat so fast.
I wonder if you think of me at night when I think of you.
I want to see you agsin, to talk to you or even just to see you smile once again.
But what would I say?
You told me you wanted to stay here and be with me
but you couldn't.
Do you still love me?
or was it just said
in desperation?
Will we ever be together again?
Will ever see your smile.
or caress cheek?
I know not.
All I know is my heart aches just thinking of you.
I can say you took my heart away with you

And i can honestly say
I may love you too.

Kai Schultz

Today

Today is nothing but a day of woe,
But no one can see it that I can see
I try not to let my emotions show,
I just want people to let me be me.
Today is nothing but a day to cry,
But if i were to leave and go right now
Then no one will ask me the questions why; someday no one will have to take a bow.
But today doesn't have to be that way,
So down and dull, in the dark of sadness;
To stop the show and walk off of the stage,
E'en if our way of life is in a mess.
Today is nothing but a day to sing.
To think of what tomorrows life will bring.

Voice

You want me to tell you how I feel but when i show you the view you don't see the deal
So tell me what I am to do
So you understand the way
I think or see.
You seem to see all the rainbows while I'm stuck in the graveyard.
You find the pot of gold
And I find the crossbones
We see two different things in one place
In your eyes I'm always wrong when all i want is my side seen.
What will it take for my voice to be heard and I can see the rainbows too I'm stuck in the dark when all I want is to see the light.

Kai Schultz

What You Wanted

I listen, to the sound of my heart though its not the prettiest sound
It cries from all the cuts you made
It still bleeds for you:
Thats what you wanted.

I listen,
to the sound of sobs though its not a calming sound.
The tears fall because of all the blood drawn;
Is that what you wanted?

I listen,
to the sound of my own breath though its not a healthy breathing sound.
Its shallow from the knife you shoved in my heart
I lay in my blood for you;
Thats not you wanted.
You wanted pain, suffering but instead you see what you once loved, out of reach, lost to the darkness
The same darkness that convinced you to do what now is done.
You got what you wanted.

Kai Schultz

When Worlds Collide

The world is never fair
So we make our own
Words filled with justice,
With peace and hapiness
A place where raindrops
Whisper sweet lullabys
And the smiles are never false.
But this world never lasts
The real world brings us back
We must always return
Nothing lasts forever
For that is our only hope
Is it not?
That one day the real world
Will end one day
And we can stay in our worlds
For the rest etenity.

Why

Why do we live, if later we die,
Why do we sing if later we hear no sound
Why do we laugh when we long to sigh
Why do we party if we don't want to be around

Why do we play when we want to sleep
Why do we lie when we need truth
Why do we smile when we wish to weep
Why do we age when we want youth

We live to bring love
We sing to bring light
We laugh as we watch the doves and we party for the sight

We smile because there is no reason to weep
We lie because we are scared of the truth
We play so we can't sleep and we age because we don't need the youth

All this, as you can see
Is how I see things
The things that are me
The things that give me wings.
